

Website CMS Terms of Use

Last Revised: 05/2021

Policy: A1007

Website CMS under this Website CMS Terms of Use ("Agreement") is powered by Elementor. Your use of the Elementor products and services ("Products") is subject to the following terms and conditions: <https://elementor.com/terms/>

Your electronic acceptance of this Agreement signifies that you have read, understand, acknowledge and agree to be bound by this Agreement, along with our Universal Terms of Service, which is incorporated herein by this reference, and any plan limits presented on the product landing pages, which are also incorporated herein by this reference.

The terms "we", "us" or "our" shall refer to Arkto Digital, LLC. The terms "you", "your", "User" or "customer" shall refer to any individual or entity who accepts this Agreement. Nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed to confer any third-party rights or benefits.

We may, in our sole and absolute discretion, change or modify this Agreement, any policies or agreements which are incorporated herein, and any limits or restrictions on the Services, at any time, and such changes or modifications shall be effective immediately upon posting to this Site. Your use of this Site or the Services after such changes or modifications shall constitute your acceptance of this Agreement and Service limitations as last revised. If you do not agree to be bound by this Agreement and the Service limitations as last revised, do not continue to use this Site or the Services. We may occasionally notify you of changes or modifications to this Agreement by email. It is therefore very important that you keep your client account information current. We assume no liability or responsibility for your failure to receive an email notification if such failure results from an inaccurate email address.

The Products are available for purchase as stand-alone products, your use of each of the Products is subject to both the general provisions of this Agreement and the provisions specific to whichever Products you use.
